

D1Expectation Highlight Cuts

What I Do With Your Film

Most athletes send coaches long HU DL links — 8, 10, even 13 minutes of plays. Coaches don't have that kind of time.

My lane with D1Expectation is simple:

I take the film you already have and condense it into a clean, coach-friendly highlight that shows who you really are as a player in about one minute.

What you send me

- Your existing highlight (5–13 minutes) and/or your best game film
- Your position(s), grad year, height/weight, and school
- Your HU DL link or upload location

What I actually do for your film

- Watch your existing highlight or game cut like a coach would
- Pick out your strongest reps — the plays that really show your game
- Put your BEST play first (no warm-up)
- Build a 1:00–1:15 heater with 8–12 of your top plays in a row
- Remove dead space, jogs, and extra fluff that wastes time
- Order plays to show the full picture of who you are:
 - Explosive plays
 - Different roles (QB/WR/KR, offense/defense/special teams)
 - Effort and finish (pursuit, blocking, tackling)

Who this is for

- Athletes who feel overlooked or stuck
- Parents who know their kid can play but don't know how to package film
- Players who want a fair shot to be evaluated at the right level: D1, D2, D3, NAIA, or JUCO

What you get back

- A condensed 1:00–1:15 highlight in a coach-ready format
- Ordered so your best football shows up fast
- Something you can text, DM, send to coaches, and post on social
- Work done by someone who has been through the recruiting grind himself

What I don't promise

- I don't promise stars, offers, or a specific level.
- I don't guarantee exposure.

I respect your time and your story too much to lie about that.

What I do promise

- Honest eyes on your film
- A cleaner, tighter highlight than you started with
- My best effort to help coaches see your real game
